

County Waifs Rescued From Their Burning Home.
 BIDDEFORD, Me., Feb. 12.—Fourteen children, from one to fourteen years old, were rescued from the burning home of J. Milton Forbes last night, where they were hoarded by the County Children's Aid Society. Mr. Forbes, assisted by members of his family and by neighbors, made repeated trips through the smoke and flames until the last child had been brought to safety. Mr. Forbes was slightly burned. The children suffered somewhat from cold, as the temperature was four below zero.

FOUR GENERATIONS OF RED BLOOD

Pepto-Mangan valuable as a blood-builder—For the thin-blooded of all ages and conditions.

At her knitting sits grandmother, radiant, glowing, young and spry as only a red-blooded old lady can be. Mother is attending the weekly session of the women's literary club. The rich, red blood in her veins gives her the strength and stamina to cultivate pleasant interests as well as to keep a good home and raise fine children. Her children are certainly models of their kind. Red blood animates the cheeks and eyes of the pretty, sparkling daughter of seventeen. Red blood is also behind every skip and romp, every merry laugh of the two rowdy kiddies playing in the yard. A family founded on red blood—and therefore prosperous, happy, unshaken by the dread specter of ill-health.

Does the picture fit your family? Or are disease and misery always knocking at your door? If that's how it is, start today to root ill-health from the family blood. Remove rich, indigestible foods from the family table. Make the whole family keep out of doors. Form a family exercise class. And the instant any member shows signs of running down, put him or her on

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time, and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow it to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen sight 50 per cent. in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is of great value. I feel that it should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. It is sold in this city by the Liggett, Hill, Henson, Store, Kalle and other druggists.—Advt.

To the People Who Do Not Go to the Theatre

Not since the Golden Age of the Theatre—the days of Booth and Barrett and Forrest and McCullough and Macready and Clara Morris and Mary Anderson and Fanny Davenport—has there been seen in New York such wonderful acting by superb artists as that being seen nightly at the Manhattan Opera House in the gigantic production of the play, "The Wanderer," by Maurice V. Samuels.

Some of the greatest of living actors and actresses are appearing in one of the most remarkable dramas of modern times.

The cast is, without exception, the strongest, most powerful and most expensive cast ever assembled for any production. It makes the so-called "All Star" combinations of other days fade into oblivion. There is more real acting in "The Wanderer" than you can witness in any half dozen other productions on Broadway to-day.

Included in the array of stellar luminaries are such superb and renowned artists as Miss Nance O'Neil; Miss Florence Reed; Miss Beverly Sitgreaves; Miss Janet Dunbar; Miss Clara Blandick; Mr. James O'Neill; Mr. Charles Dalton; Mr. William Elliott; Mr. William H. Thompson; Mr. Sydney Herbert; Mr. Pedro De Cordoba; Mr. Frederick Lewis; Mr. Lawson Butt; Mr. Lionel Braham; Mr. Walter Gibbs; Mr. Sydney Mather; Mr. Macey Harlam; Miss Elza Fredericks; Miss Harda Daube; Mlle. Sofia Korty; and more than two hundred others.

"The Wanderer" is the never-dying, eternal, soul-stirring drama of the prodigal son; his downfall and his redemption. Based upon the Biblical parable, it is a powerful and stirring drama of intense force and virility, staged on a scale of opulent magnificence which exceeds at times the gorgeousness and splendor of the days of King Solomon.

"The Wanderer" is the greatest contribution to real religion which our stage has given in this day and generation. It brings home with unerring directness and strength the evil results of youthful profligacy, the error of a son's wandering from the protecting influences of father and mother, the downfall of the headstrong and reckless boy who deemed himself wiser than his father, and the final redemption and forgiveness when the prodigal returns home, penitent and sorrowful, to encounter the glorious compassion of his loving parents.

No greater or more beautiful story has ever been staged since the beginning of the world. Through all the centuries, down the corridors of time, this wonderful story of the prodigal son has ever reigned supreme as the most perfect and appealing narrative of mother-love ever known since time began.

You cannot afford to miss seeing "The Wanderer." A great play, a great cast, a great spectacle. Two hundred and fifty people on the stage at once. A great flock of sheep—scores of them—grazing on the hillside in the care of the shepherd boy, Jether. Scenic effects which arouse gasps of surprise and astonishment. Gorgeous coloring in the Bacchanalian revel of the second act never surpassed even by the Russian ballet. Incidental music of superb beauty by Dr. Anselm Goetzl, played by an orchestra of sixty musicians. More than 150 stage hands are necessary to handle the scenery alone. In fact, IN EVERY WAY, this production of "The Wanderer" establishes a new record for theatrical achievement.

And note the prices; a colossal offering for the multitude for whom this play has such a powerful appeal. The seats are 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50, and all are reserved. There are always 300 orchestra seats at $1.00. At the Wednesday matinee the seats are only 25c to $1.00. Think of it—the greatest cast, the greatest stage production, and a play which has been pronounced the biggest endeavor of this day and generation—at such prices.

See it—and marvel.
